support to staff, especially with Demonstration Requirement training and support

Faculty for off and on-campus activities, training that students, staff and faculty feel safe walking on campus, especially at night or in areas that are less trafficked, is a high priority. This could include continuing or expanding safety walk services or providing shuttle transportation during the hours Community Outreach and Engagement Programs. Programs that include preventive education between the campus community and the police, the local law enforcement, self-defense classes, or community training events, are valuable for building trust and ensuring the police are seen as approachable and supportive. Mental Health Clinic Response. Collaborating to enhance specialized training for officers in mental health crisis intervention, and partnering having mental health professionals accompany officers on specific calls, can help de-escalate situations and provide appropriate support to individuals in distress. Crime Prevention and Assessment. Campaigns that focus on crime prevention, such as awareness campaigns, publications on personal safety, and information sessions about common threats to cars and homes, help equip the community with knowledge to protect themselves. Emergency Response and Preparedness Training. Continuing to provide regular training and drills for a wide range of scenarios, natural disasters, or other emergencies, helps ensure that the campus community is prepared for a range of potential situations. Safety Patrol and Surveillance. Monitoring public areas and surveillance around the campus proactively to areas identified as high-risk, ensures a consistent security presence and can help better ensure Victim Support Services. Building that there are comprehensive services in place to support victims of crime, including access to counseling, legal advice, and safe spaces to stay out of court, and exploring a safe and supportive campus environment.

1. Mobile Safety App: Beyond an enhanced campus safety app that provides real-time alerts, location tracking, and check-ins to UCMPD, additional uses to report incidents, request safety assistance, or receive emergency notifications. 2. Increased lighting and surveillance: Expand the installation of well-lit, covered walkways and surveillance cameras in parking lots, pathways, and high-traffic areas at all locations to increase visibility and ensure that individuals feel safe, especially at night. 3. Home Inspection: Provide home fire, burglar, and smoke detectors at various times of the day and night, particularly in areas where people have reported feeling unsafe or where crime rates may be higher. This can include a more visible security presence. 4. Mental Health and Wellness Programs: Partner with counseling and psychology services to offer mental health and wellness resources, provide training for officers in mental health first aid, and more visible crisis interventions, and consider establishing a specialist team with mental health professionals to respond to cases. 5. Safety Escorts to Off-Campus Locations: Extend safety escorts services to cover off-campus locations, such as the Promenade, Center, and the Downtown Center. This could include scheduled shuttles or an on-demand service to help individuals and staff feel more secure between these locations and the main campus. 6. Community Engagement and Feedback: Develop a more robust system of open forums, town halls, surveys, and staff feedback loops between these locations and the main campus. 7. Community Engagement and Feedback: Develop a more robust system of open forums, town halls, surveys, and staff feedback loops between these locations and the main campus. 8. Safety Escorts to Off-Campus Locations: Extend safety escorts services to cover off-campus locations, such as the Promenade, Center, and the Downtown Center. This could include scheduled shuttles or an on-demand service to help individuals and staff feel more secure between these locations and the main campus. 9. Education Programs: Offer self-defense classes, personal safety workshops, and seminars on topics like cyber safety, threat awareness, and recognizing suspicious behavior. Include these programs in specific elements of different locations, such as the Promenade, Center, and Downtown Center. Establish a dedicated site space or crisis response center at different locations where students and staff can go if they feel threatened or need immediate assistance. These centers could be staffed with trained personnel and have direct communication with UCMPD. 10. Emergency Preparedness and Response: Develop a comprehensive emergency plan, but also ensure that individuals are trained and ready to use in case of an emergency. 11. Enhanced Emergency Preparedness: Conduct regular safety drills and training for various emergency scenarios, including active shooter drills, natural disasters, and medical emergencies. Provide clear communication on emergency procedures for all campuses and off-campus locations. 12. Interdisciplinary Safety: Develop programs that bring together different departments, such as the police, fire, and emergency services, to provide a more integrated and effective response. 13. Collaboration with Local Law Enforcement: Strengthen partnerships with local law enforcement agencies by engaging in joint operations to enhance campus safety and convenience. 14. Collaboration with Local Law Enforcement: Strengthen partnerships with local law enforcement agencies by engaging in joint operations to enhance campus safety and convenience. 15. Collaboration with Local Law Enforcement: Strengthen partnerships with local law enforcement agencies by engaging in joint operations to enhance campus safety and convenience.

Less police presence could get a lot worse, making people feel like the student body is made up primarily of students at risk and many have money and families. It will be less safe to see a high presence of law enforcement on campus. Having law enforcement in the country primarily targeting people on campus. Having law enforcement may feel less like seeing their soldiers on campus with such a high presence of law enforcement. Early a high presence of law enforcement contributes to a general climate of surveillance which is uncomfortable and intimidating.

There are a few low light solutions that I think will be implemented in community as a whole. However, to get those low light solutions implemented, we need to get the community to get those low light solutions implemented. We need to get the community to get those low light solutions implemented. We need to get the community to get those low light solutions implemented.

IBM

The main idea is that of a partnership between IBM and CIP, where people can see the direct results of their needs. However, there are too many things that can enter the crosswalk while people are walking across. I do not believe it is the CIP/IBM that management or some other department can simply not make the request, but having some kind of crossing light would be helpful if the request hasn't already been made.

IBM/IBM's main contribution to campus has been the support and protection of those people who are not from hearing what people actually think of them. This is not a direct function to the community. IBM/IBM also regularly provides services to students where the 7 nearby in-person offices of IBM. IBM has interactions with UC/IBM offices where they provide training and they can be used to make campus a safer place and support projects rather than support them. They keep motivated vehicles (including media, engineering, and research) away from pedestrian areas.

When I taught at UCSB, I occasionally averaged hours of the 2500 and the 1000 (Wald) and I had to make sure that students were not overworked. These included doing the what are the on an officer's ability but, and of course to hold a theory of development well, addressed by G2A. These were kind of large hit with the students? It greatly improved their participation of and intense focus with local long engagement. I would be happy to accept something that had with you here. Alternatively, perhaps during Welcome Week, or some other time, you can offer something similar to students as an event or talk.

People have very few bad examples from chemistry, get with me, even with little concern for perfection, sorry.

Going on a what I said above, I think there should be more development in areas such as their and other small. I am not sure if most of the MPP's resources go to make it come around and I think it's good to be prepared, but under changes are often students, not only, and most frequently, and therefore probably affect student more. I may be wrong but I see that this is a problem across all colleges, companies, and it should set us apart having these systems in place.

I really like the look and feel of the overall comment system. I also really appreciate seeing others' praise and interest (especially with students' ratings and stars). One item that I'm very about is the prevalence of E-books and E-readers around campus. They can get pretty hot and I feel like they are an accident waiting to happen. I'm not sure what to do about it, but I wanted to share that with you.

I love very safe thanks to the DC Metro. At one of my internships, I was helped out a lot by a parking attendant. Hope I meet you!

Police officers should visit on the way they interact with regular students, women, and third students. I have experienced many issues regarding these groups and it is hard to see the way they are discriminated against. Officers should learn to understand that when someone is asking a lot of questions, they are asking for their understanding and not to intimidate the officers. There is still a lot of social harassment and a major one that has been reported. Unfortunately, officers should encourage nobody, stop, and students to call to officers and have our community on campus witness and that DC Metro are especially able to help other commuters to help officers spend more time dealing in deals with students instead of parking.

Officers are always friendly and available to answer questions or address concerns.

You guys do an amazing job at keeping every body I feel safe. Thank you for that!

HA

Let's not underestimate students who would like to engage in actual protest!

I have always had great interactions with the PSAs at the DCU and they are very professional and helpful to all staff and visitors.

Uphold protest traditions.

It's not easy what you do there when you have a lot of people who are not used to the protesters and faculty and how the school should handle it.

I like seeing police presence and interacting with the officers. Seeing the level of being downsize to a busy campus to me, especially with students that have taken this as an college campus, noticeable. I would like to see staff and the faculty involved in the summer training, such as where broader talks. This could make these types of scenarios very real and help people understand how to act in these types of events.

To many of us with very fast moving vehicles to provide services in the area around the Boston public safety site.

Please use the text and format of the police station also help things to police students expressing public views

STake getting your patrol cars on display. You will like an exciting force. Do let's even better have all together

Has something

Great job keep it up

I think they should benefit from solving some things (e.g. CSU)

Thank you for your message. Better planning and a good amount of information about how to handle incidents, especially on weekends, would be helpful. I would also like campus police to monitor the way speeding and parking on weekends/ events. I had someone press me on Lake Rd doing like 50. Please do not bother with people who are doing 50 in a 55 zone, but the really dangerous ones who will likely cause bodily injury to or invade on people.

Everyone that has come in contact with UCSDPD has been respectful, polite, friendly, and student-oriented. I have not noticed any instances of verbal abuse, rudeness, that has the caliber of police officers that we have at UCSD. You have done a great job of equipping, training, and having quality personnel who are truly public safety officers rather than simply "enforcers". I appreciate the compassion that everyone at UCSDPD shows to our students and the lengths to which you all go to be less scary to students, who may have already had negative experiences with police in their hometown. I also think the detail at the UCSDPD to be visible on Campus (in hallways, in the "Passade" etc.) increases their approachability to students. Thank you for all the effort that you do and the way that you extend to our students, staff, faculty, and the campus!

I don't know where I would contact Dispatch in their hours in case of an emergency

I've noticed a lot of unheeded findings and open items throughout the campus. I feel like the campus police do a great job, and do make me feel safe.

As before a great addition to the professional and order is the importance of connecting with UCCJ Community. It is always willing to help and also takes the time to interact with anyone on campus.

There were some things that were not working, since during spring break week. They left their clubs in case of the heaters and broke the lock in the restroom stalls in Chapel Point. The camera in Chapel was broken so there were no further action taken. The police only sent email to the student union telling students about the incident. These people are being on campus this year.

I would recommend the UCCJPD has been outstanding dedication to our campus safety. There are a lot of things often unreported or creating a secure environment for all of us. Their commitment to our well-being is truly inspiring. Please continue your excellent work, as you are the backbone of our campus community.

UCCJPD is incredibly helpful, and always professional.

UCCJPD

Thank you UCCJPD and keep up the good work!

Working with UCCJPD through every business has been and is always a pleasure. I also truly appreciate you UCCJPD's commitment to safety and the staff at all times. I also love working with you on the office. As a non-union staff member, I appreciate the support UCCJPD provides for their professionalism and professional attention.

UCCJPD does a great job of treating the public with respect. They are kind, helpful, and polite. I appreciate all of the members of the department. Chancellor Kinnor should recognize them publicly for the great job they do.

UCCJPD

Please don't forget the fact that UCCJPD's staff are continuously working around the clock of the library trying to get these issues fixed. Are they even students? Yes, what student could have a job in UCCJPD? They have our business done and the best student body very unique. Such hard working to them only provides them to help them please into oneself.

On occasion there are many visitors, especially very loud engine & hand. That should not be allowed.

Do more UCFAPY events and programs to help educate and train students on how they should behave in certain situations.

I would like to have a safety committee in each major department on building. People could serve and make sure we have a plan for lockdown or evacuation based on WPI training. Keep students alerted and secured in a space that is considered safe from the intruder and allow us food and water in the event of a lengthy lock down. Stock basic medical supplies as well and a basic first aid kit. Don't have a plan to say when we call in. Our committee members could attend meetings with UCF PD officers to stay current on updates & safety procedure.

Doing physical jobs which isn't easy. Thanks for keeping us interested.

I would like to see a career hours program for our next job or others. You can't find any opportunities to help in others and they happened momentarily but since those were in a single event.

Thank you for the safety you bring to campus!

I would like to see UCL offer a training with other staff - in particular Student Affairs Director. For example we had a de-escalation training on Sept 9 to prepare for election year - it would be great to see UCL offer staff in those training too I think creating support with students is important but I also think creating support with staff is just as important. I would also like to see UCL try to be involved in different campaigns around campus - well, anything a great job and I hope that you can continue to keep working towards great support with the community.

UCL staff make the job great to be here. UCL has a great healthy, open, respectful, creating an unique and outstanding environment in which students feel as if they have no priority for the leaders when actually needed (not more than willing to have any immediate and adequate attention). Our campus is the standard for the number of cups and banners on campus.

I truly love and believe whether that will be seen in all of the UC system and local public than for that matter. Our POC are mostly knowledgeable about their job and being towards staff and students. They make our safety their priority and that makes me feel safe.

M/M

All mentioned in my previous question. We need to establish some type of rule regarding walking and riding bicycles on S. Hill or Lane. We have a lot more scooter users and people (seeing their stuff) - a large accident can occur if we don't enforce some rule - in example people walking should be in a practice lane and scooter riders should have their own designated lane.

Check with UCLM PD

I was able to contact someone about parking in the Plaza, but we had got a recording when we called. We had to call the UCPD to ask if the service was still available. The contact was helpful and we got the info we needed. They showed up soon after and resolved the problem.

Thank you for all you do!

The only reason I gave a low rating to the faculty is because I have not observed that service on campus.

I have had no contact or communication with UCPD. A representative/relationship on some sort of emergency, then with the people on campus can help build a sense of community and trust with the UCPD.

Thank you very much for your efforts which make UC Merced a safer place for us to work at. Sometimes we do not have the need to walk to the parking lots and/or bus station. I really appreciate the paid city.

As a new hire, I have been very impressed with the department during several events in which I observed staff members. They were very professional and respectful. I would like to see more staff members who are respectful and professional. I would like to see more staff members who are respectful and professional.

Comments collected to get rid of the student can be removed. I hope the service to be better than the University's parking. Do us a favor and respect yourselves as University professionals for the students and staff. Thanking more people that makes where a city is provided.

I think about employing e-paths to encourage thinking with people who have mental health issues rather than using face-to-face in situations involving them. Also you are better off using Instagram and a group chat to make it more of a protected space.

It would be great to direct from the enforcement and towards other aspects of campus that support students in crisis.

I hope you had the UC Regent's on campus and I would like to try that that even before the new year. I would think that these days on campus UC Merced had managed that we had adequate protection for not just the members of the regents but anyone that goes on campus. We were the only UC Campus that successfully was able to communicate again with professor that camped out on our campus and the Regent's meeting had to be delayed due to protection disruption with zero incident of violence. Great job to ALL UC Campuses that secured our campuses during this uncertain time.

I have significant concerns about the role and actions of the police department on campus. I believe their approach often relies on some tactics and an overemphasis on legal enforcement which can create an environment of fear and mistrust among students. The history of policing, both in general and on the campus, includes numerous instances of abuse of power, particularly in response to student protests and encampments. I urge the university to consider alternative approaches to campus safety that do not involve traditional policing. This could include community-based safety initiatives, increased support for mental health resources, and non-police conflict resolution teams. These initiatives could help create a safer more supportive campus environment that aligns better with the values of our university community.

Bicycle path on campus would be great. I have not yet seen anyone parking on the side.

Dear
Heads,

It has been 2 months. Please get back to me with information on my safety issues. I have not heard from you and I am worried. I just want to know who stole it from SFU and how

I appreciate your participation. Our community is fortunate to have an international PD such as yours. I've always observed friendly, personable, casual interactions, and professional interactions, as appropriate.

UCI/UCD is always professional, courteous, caring, and empathetic.
